DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.
2. Claims 16 and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Chen in view of Tsujimura et al, as applied in the rejection filed August 10, 2004.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed November 19, 2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

- a. Applicant argues that what is effective in Chen is the "fiber mat", and that in the present invention, there is no such fiber in the polishing layer and thus the polishing layer as a whole has the described hardness and porosity.

- i. However, applicant recites in the claims that the polishing pad comprises a layer of porous and compressive material. Applicant does not recite that the layer consists of "only" a single material. Therefore, Chen et al discloses the recited material since the polishing pad comprises such a layer of material that includes fibers and matrix polymers exhibiting the properties (20-80 duro, and pores with sizes 20-100 microns) recited by applicant. Even though the layer disclosed by Chen et al includes a "fiber mat", the fiber and matrix polymers are included to give the layer the properties recited by applicant as clearly stated in column 4, lines 30-47.

Conclusion

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
